

Diary of a Shy boy

Today when I woke up I found out that we had to take care of a pet. The pet's name is, Lame. Lame was a naughty dog because he was always so hungry. Sometimes, he ate the sofa or my stuffed teddy bear. Once when he came to my house and he ate my Lego, so he had to go to hospital to take out the Lego. The owner of the pet said, "If you take care of my pet, he will return lots of love to you". Then I felt confident. I knew I had to take care of him. Last time, someone said to take care of a pet, my brother ruined it by sending him to a dungeon. When the guy went, I took the pet carefully. That guy was going to Hawaii. My mum told me to not take the pet anywhere, so I didn't. Soon after, days went and finally that guy came so we gave him Lame quietly. He checked him and found him in a good health. After the check, my dad told me I could go to a safari park for keeping Lame happy. Later in the day, my mum had to take me to the park because dad didn't tell me that he was going to his office. I thought that the park of amazement was going to be as fun as a roller-coaster, but it turned out that the park was just a dump site which was embarrassing as I got dirty on my special clothes. When I was young, my clothes that were for 9-year old boy got so muddy that the brown, soggy mud didn't get off, so we recycled them to charity. I told mum to go home and she said yes! What a mirical! After we went home in our car, I took some fruit to get the smell of my tongue buds and some Dairy Milk chocolate. If you asked me which chocolate, I liked, I would say 10 out of 10 for Dairy Milk. The next day, it came a bit calm, there was less homework to do and less traveling to do. Then when there's less traveling, there's less people to meet. Most children would like to meet people but trust me, I'm not a person like that. When the final day came, I decided to go and meet some people on snake island. Snake island might sound scary, but it is so cool, they have the best rides in the world and there must be loads of people who agree on that. When we came there was no way I'm going home with this much fun. There was a waterslide, a swimming pool, a hot tub and more fun activities. There was loads of children I should make friends with because they are as cool as a sweet dolphin. I'm saying this because these children have come from the most famous cities.
